spanish designer silvia ceñal looks to the great pines of la forêt des landes for her latest design, 'forêt table'. the piece's concept is derived from the strong perpendicular branches that grow from the trees' trunks, which is explored in the unique joint of rounded supports and legs. 'forêt table' was presented at nude hall in the habitat valencia fair earlier this month.

the table measures 131 x 80 x 75cm

the piece is constructed using oak
